Naturopathy & Yoga at a glance

Mahatma Gandhiji was the pioneer of Naturopathy in India. Health can be improved through proper, scientific treatment the natural way. The best advantage of Nature Cure is that it is free from all synthetic medicine. In Indian culture, yoga has traditionally been a part of daily routine which is meant for attaining healthy life.

Yoga is an ancient discipline designed to bring balance and health to the physical, mental, emotional, and spiritual dimensions of the individual. It is long popular practice in India that has become increasingly more common in Western society.

Naturopathy attempts to bring the human body close to the Nature and Yoga tries to keep it there. In fact, the primary cause of all diseases is "the violation of Nature's laws", i.e. breach of rules of diet exercises, drinking water, relaxation, and sleep etc. Naturopathy proclaims "Disease as such is the self-purifying effort of Nature"
